PRO BONO VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES FOR RECENT LAW SCHOOL GRADUATES IN THE CHICAGO AREA

Recent law school graduates can help meet the needs of low-income and other vulnerable people in our community through pro bono service. Pro bono not only helps people in need, but also allows recent graduates to develop legal skills, create a network within the legal community and gain the emotional satisfaction that comes with helping people in need. Recent law school graduates of all experience levels can get involved.

Additional pro bono opportunities can be found in the CBF Guide to Pro Bono Opportunities. Recent law school graduates should feel free to contact any of the organizations directly. If you have questions or would like assistance getting involved, contact Angela Inzano at ainzano@chicagobar.org or 312-554-4952.

EVICITION DEFENSE
Volunteer attorneys will defend Chicago’s low-income renters families in eviction court. Under the supervision of LCBH staff attorneys, volunteers will have the opportunity to handle all aspects of representation from start to finish, including client interviews, discovery, motion practice, settlement negotiations, court appearances, and both bench and jury trials. Because evictions are heard on an expedited schedule, cases may settle quickly or proceed to trial within a few months. Volunteers may also represent renters in non-litigation matters, such as landlord-tenant disputes, in order to help them avoid eviction filings.
